

Q2 2026 · MARKET BRIEF

Luxury Market Report

A directional view of Saudi Arabia's prime residential market

Executive perspective

Saudi Arabia's luxury residential sector continues to be shaped by new destination development, expanding lifestyle infrastructure, and a more diverse international buyer base. Prime purchasers remain selective: quality, delivery certainty, access, privacy, and long-term place-making matter more than headline launches.

ASCENDURE VIEW

Use market evidence at the building and micro-location level. Headline narratives should support—not replace—legal, technical, and commercial due diligence.

Demand signals

Family-led demand favours larger layouts, turnkey specifications, privacy, and proximity to schools and lifestyle amenities. Investors are placing greater weight on service standards, recurring charges, handover risk, and realistic leasing depth.
